

A • MANO and our environment

“Would you prefer Sparkling or Still?” When asked at A MANO you will not be contributing yet another bottle to an over packed landfill. A MANO has installed the state-of-the art Natura Water Filtration System with reusable glass bottles. Best of all the delicious water is complimentary - Here is what the Press are saying...

“America’s landfills collect 2.5 mil water bottles per hour - but what to do when you’re out to dinner? Change course and support some of the city’s conscientious local eateries serving water that’s filtered in-house. A Mano, a River North trattoria from the Bin 36 crew, serves both sparkling and flat water from its Italian filtration system. Sustainable, free H2O? A true gift from the gods.”

-Ideal Bite

“A MANO, a new contemporary trattoria in Chicago, has installed a state-of-the-art Italian water filtration system dispensing both still and sparkling water. Then they serve it gratis in tall, contemporary looking bottles similar to Voss’s that say “still” and “sparkling” on the side.”

-Beverage Media

“Amid the bottled water backlash, owner Dan Sachs and chef John Caputo came up with a solution by installing an advanced water treatment system created by Natura which dispenses still or sparkling water into carafes for customers to drink at the table. The result is good, clean water that’s better than tap, but without the excess waste of bottled water.”

-Chicago Life

